VOL 26. BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1891. NO. 47

Within the next few weeks bills will be enclosed in all papers on which there is a year or more subscription due. We shall expend the time and labor necessary to do this, not as a recreation or amusement, but because the money is past due and we need it. All persons receiving bills in this way are requested to make early settlement. Our terms are $1.00 a year in advance, $1.50 if not paid in advance. In cases of longer delay the latter rate will be charged. Settle at once if you want the benefit of the low rate.

A lamp exploed in the millinery store of Mrs. R. Snyder Wednesday evening. Assistance came at once and extinguished the fire which averted a great destruction.

Pardon and Kirmess in aid of the G. A. R. Memorial Hall Building fund, is now in progress in 9th Regiment Armory at Wilkesbarre, and will continue until the 21st.

A boy named Girton, of Rohrsburg, shot himself in the left arm while out gunning last Friday. A piece of bone three inches long was taken out of the arm.

There are a number of children who do not attend school regularly. Parents should see that their children attend every day. A day lost is a step backward.

We announced last week that the American Mechanics had presented the flag to the High School building. It should have read the Patriotic Order Sons of America. The latter organization made the presentation.

The Brass Tube Works are now about ready for operation. There will no doubt be a little delay at first, for want of more practical workmen, but it will be only for a short time until the works will be in full operation.

Alfred McHenry, the Benton merchant, went to Philadelphia on Monday to buy new winter goods. The Benton people rather suspect that he went down to buy a new suit of clothes for that ten pound boy that came to his house last Saturday.

An Industrial Building and Loan Association has been organized in Bloomsburg with the following officers: President, C C. Peacock; Vice president, C. W. Neal; Secretary, A. N. Yost; Treasurer, Samuel Wigfall. Directors: C. C. Peacock, C. W. Neal, J. R. Townsend, I. S. Kuhn, W. R. Tubs and Samuel Wigfall.

Miss Laura A. Shoemaker, daughter of the late S. S. Shoemaker, and Mr. Sheridan Swentzel, son of Mr. Wm. H. Swentzel, were married at the residence of G. E. Wilbur Thursday of last week, November 12, by Rev. Fred L. Hiller, father of Mrs. Wilbur. The happy couple went immediately to housekeeping on west Third street, in a new house, lately built by the groom.

CLEVELAND FOR 1892.

The New York World, was opposed to the election of Cleveland in 1884 and again in 1888. It was their silence in the campaign of 1888 that contributed as much as anything to the defeat of Mr. Cleveland. At the same election Governor Hill, whom The World supported was elected governor by over 26,000 while Cleveland was defeated by over 20,000. Sunday last in a lengthy editorial, The World, for some reason, has changed its moorings and came out boldly for the Ex-President, in the following manner:

Mr. CLEVELAND should, upon his nomination—which now seems to be most probable—announce his determination not to stand for another term, and then proceed, in the freedom which this would secure to him, to make an administration so good for the country that any fit and representative Democrat could be elected to succeed him.

So far from believing that if nominated and elected—as he would almost certainly be—Mr. CLEVELAND would "prove a failure," The World believes that he would prove a success. He is a broader, a wiser and a more experienced man than he was in 1884, or even in 1888. He possesses in a remarkable degree the public confidence, even among thoughtful and conservative men not of his own party.

Whether any candidate from the "broad shouldered" West would be as strong in the three Northern States which it is essential that the Democrats shall carry, and which with the South would give them just the 223 electoral votes necessary to succeed—New York, New Jersey, and Indiana—is a question for the National Convention next year to consider.

The proceedings of the new Congress may change the conditions, but at the present time all the indications point strongly to the nomination and election of Mr. CLEVELAND.

THE SOUTHERN INTER-STATES EXPOSITION.

We had expected to take a trip to Raleigh, North Carolina, this month, to visit the Exposition, but owing to certain circumstances, that trip has been abandoned.

Some months ago a circular came to this office, signed by J. T. Patrick, Secretary of the Southern Exposition, inviting us to take a journey to Dixie land, and voluntarily offering a round trip ticket from New York, Baltimore or Richmond, to Raleigh, in exchange for the insertion of reading notices concerning the said Exposition. This proposition was accepted, and we promptly inserted the notices as requested, and sent marked copies to Mr. Patrick. Shortly afterward another circular came to hand from the same source, in which Mr. Patrick says "I am quite sure that if you will correspond with F. W. Clark, General Passenger Agent &c., of Norfolk, Va., or the Passenger Agent of the Richmond Terminal Company, you can arrange with one of them to give you in exchange for advertising a round trip ticket from New York or Baltimore to Raleigh."

This was something different from Mr. Patrick's first proposition, which was an unqualified offer of a round trip ticket and on the strength of which his concern obtained some advertising from us. However, we wrote to Mr. Clark as suggested by Mr. Patrick, and in reply received a letter from Patrick saying that the letter had been forwarded to him by Mr. Clark, but instead of enclosing the ticket, he merely informed us that the "excursion rates from Baltimore were $10.20." We replied to this, saying that we had made no inquiries about excursion rates, and again asking for the ticket he had promised in accordance with our contract. To this we received no reply, and again we wrote, asking Mr. Patrick to state whether we would get the ticket at all, as we were tired making arrangements every week to leave home in expectation daily of the arrival of the ticket. To this no reply has ever come.

From all this we are forced to the conclusion that Mr. John T. Patrick is a "dead beat." No doubt he obtained a large amount of free advertising from northern papers in the same dishonest way. The Exposition in itself was a good thing, and with proper management ought to have been a success, but we are informed by persons who were there, that the management of Patrick was a great drawback to it. When we want to travel, we can buy our tickets, but when a man obtains our goods by false pretenses, we can at least have the satisfaction of informing the public regarding his way of doing business.

Rev. Mr. Yatman the Evangelist, will address the young people of our town on Monday evening Nov. 23 at the Presbyterian church. An exchange thus speaks of him:

Mr. Yatman continued his series of illustrated sermons at the Methodist Episcopal Tabernacle last evening. Professor Wood offered prayer and Mrs. Kress sang the hymn "Eternity," in fine voice. Mr. Yatman applied the term "chemical sermon" to his illustrated discourse, and such it really was.

He placed a jar of pure water on the desk. This he said represented mankind before sin came into the world. He then poured a chemical fluid into the jar and the water changto an inky blackness. The speaker next picked up a handful of roses, saying that they represented morality, but throw them into the jar as he might they would not restore the purity of color, though they might lend a sweet scented odor to the water. Morality, he said, would not take away the stain of sin.

Mr. Yatman then poured a few drops of red liquid into the jar when its contents sparkled with the beauty of brightness. This fluid, he said, represented the "blood of Christ which cleanseth from all sin." The entire sermon was of an impressive nature and commanded the careful attention of the assemblage up to the very minnute of dismissal. Many persons were compelled to remain standing.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.

The Ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Bloomsburg will serve a dinner on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26, between the hours of 12 m. and 3 p. m. in the New Parish Building. Supper will be served on the same day, from 5 to 10 o'clock p. m. A full Turkey dinner and an excellent supper will be provided. Dinner 50 cents, supper 25 cents. Bring your families and avoid the labor of preparing your dinner at home. The public is invited, and a liberal patronage is solicited.

STUDENTS LECTURE COURSE.

No one can afford to miss the lecture to be delivered by John R. Clarke next Monday evening at the Normal School. Too much can not be said in recommendation of this lecture. It will more than meet expectations. It will be witty, it will abound in good stories, it will be eloquent. It will doubtless be one of the best lectures ever heard in Bloomsburg. His one lecture "To and Fro in London" has been delivered over 1000 times in the United States. A very large sum has been paid to secure Mr. Clarke, and it is hoped that the public will show its appreciation of a good thing, brought within the reach and the means of all.

Here are what some of the well known educators say of him.

John R Clarke has in his recent "Hits and Misses," more than sustained the excellent reputation gained here in "To and Fro in London." He is in every way a brilliant success.—G. M. Brunbaugh, Supt. of Huntington Co., Pa.

John R. Clarke excels them all. No other lecturer on the American platform so completely combines all the good qualities of a lecturer.—R. B. Royer, Heidelburg University, Tiffin, O.

There has not been on the Chautauqua platform this year so remarkable a man as John R. Clarke, nor has there been given so unique and individual an address. He handled his subject, "To and Fro in London," with the skill of an experienced workman.—Chautauqua, N. Y., Assembly Herald.

His theme, "To and Fro in London," gave him a fine opportunity to introduce many of the great historical and literary characters that have made England so famous. Mr. Clarke spoke more than two hours and held the undivided attention of his audience to the close.—Ladies' Collegian, Oxford, Ohio.

GROWTH OF YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

The first Association in America was organized at Montreal, in 1851; the first in the United States at Boston, a few months later. The year following, Associations were established at New York, Washington, Buffalo, and Baltimore.

There are now in the United States and Canada 1,341 Associations with an aggregate membership of about 213,000. These Associations own a total net property of $10,433,647. 205 of them own the building they occupy. 511 have libraries aggregating 422,,912 volumes. 731 have reading rooms. 1,031 have Bible classes, and over 1,500 prayer and gospel meetings for young men only are held regularly.

Read what Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, recently Mayor of New York City says of the Association:

"I have long known, and observed with great satisfaction the operations of the Young Men's Christian Association in this city [New York]. It is a most beneficent agency, and has not only provided a place of resort for young men, but given them instruction, found employment for them, and kept them out of mischief. Many of the most successful business men of New York have been members of this Association, and I know of no agency in our midst which has done more good. It would be a great cause of gratification if similar institution were organized in every city and town in the United States.

DRINKER—McKINNEY.

Mr. Richard Carleton Drinker, son of E. R. Drinker, and Miss Elmira Barton McKinney, daughter of Mrs. M. H. McKinney, were united in holy wedlock at the bride's home on Market street, on Tuesday noon at 12 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. D. J. Waller Sr. in the presence of about thirty guests, members of the families of the contracting parties, and a few intimate friends. The bridal couple entered the parlor alone, the bride attired in a handsome dress of white crepe de chine. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served, and at 2.36 they started for New York. Their permanent home will be in Bethlehem, where Mr. Drinker is engaged in business.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

J. Wesley Moyer has our thanks for a handsome 1892 calender.

Ladies' Auxiliary Societies.

WOMEN IN EVERY COUNTY TO AID THE WORLD'S FAIR MANAGERS.

Executive Commissioner Whitman of the board of World's fair managers will establish a ladies auxiliary in every county of the state to co-operate with the committee on woman's work of the board in enlisting the interest and active effort of the ladies of Pennsylvania in the endeavor to secure as large an exhibit as practicable of the products of their sex at the Columbian exposition. These societies will be under the immediate direction of the committee on women's work of which Mrs. Harriet A. Lucas, of Philadelphia, is chairman. The naming of the ladies has been left to the members of the board in the several counties which have immediate representatives thereon. Where there are no such representatives gentlemen of high standing have been designated for the purpose by the executive commissioner. Each society will consist of not less than five ladies and as many more as may be thought advisable by the party recommending them.

The county auxiliaries, acting under the instructions of the committee on women's work, will elect delegates to a district convention, for the purpose of naming one lady in each congressional district to serve as a member of the state auxiliary society which it is proposed to organize. The members of the state society will have general supervision of the work in their several districts. A PROMISING COLT.

W. A. Hartzell is the owner of a fine colt which he purchased from M. Q. White of Espy. The colt is seventeen months old, and is well-bred. His sire was Mercury, a blooded stallion owned by Robert Peck of Lycoming county. He is a roan gelding, shaped very much like the celebrated Sunol who has made a mile in 2.08¼. His movement is good, with long easy stride, and his every action indicates that he has speed in him. Mr. Hartzell has been driving him double, and he carries himself already like a well-broken horse. From his pedigree, his build and his action he has aroused great expectation, and it is believed that he will prove to be a fast trotter.

Mr. Hartzell is also the owner of Jim Patchen, a blooded Hambletonian stallion, and one of the prettiest horses in this section. He makes his mile in 2.38 and does it easily, as he is a smooth trotter. He is of quiet and gentle disposition, and took the first premium at the late county fair.

Mrs. Sarah Thornton, widow of the late Thomas J. Thornton, died last Saturday afternoon at the residence of her sister, Mrs. James Barton, aged about 64 years. Mrs. Thornton was a daughter of John Quick deceased, and a sister of the late Grier and John D. Quick, and of Mrs. Barton and Mrs Barcley. She was an excellent christian woman, and a member of the Episcopal church. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. W. C. Leverett.

IS THIS YOUR MAN, JOHN?

RUTLAND Vt., Nov. 14.—The arrest of one Post, alias Carter, at Albany, for bunco-steering, brings to light the fact that some six months ago he and two accomplices swindled an old farmer, John O'Donald, of Hampton, out of $6,000 by means of the "gold brick" dodge.

Carter is young, prepossessing and glib of tongue. He first ingratiated himself into O'Donald's confidence by pretending to be looking for an uncle of the same name. Then he told the aged granger a fairy story about an Indian who had discovered a gold mine out West and had sample bricks worth $15,000 a piece to sell.

The Indian and his bricks were found in the woods and the United States Assayer, who pronounced them pure gold, was read at the village inn.

O'Donald was so much chagrined at being swindled that he kept the matter secret for months. He is worth $50,000.

Edward H. Baldy.

Edward H. Baldy died at his home in Danville last Sunday evening. Mr. Baldy was born in April, 1821, received academic education at Milton, Pa., and graduated from Princeton College in 1839. He subsequently studied law and was admitted to practice at the bar of Northumberland County on April 5th, 1842, retired from the practice of law in 1884. He became president of the Bank of Danville, now the Danville National, Bank, in 1856, and continued in that office until a few weeks ago, when he resigned on account of failing health. He became a member of Danville Lodge, No. 224, F. and A. M., in 1847, and served as worshipful-master during the years 1852 and 1853. The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, and was largely attended, a number of people going down from Bloomsburg.

For many years Mr. Baldy practiced law in this county. He was a lawyer of great ability, and his services were sought after in many important cases.

The new Furniture Factory buildings are rapidly approaching completion.

Mrs. Beers, an aged lady, died at her home on Eighth street last Sunday night, after a long illness. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning.

Next Thursday being Thanksgiving, the public schools will be closed. As this will somewhat interfere with the attendance the next day, the directors have concluded to have no school on Friday the 27th.

Two tramps were put in jail on Sunday night, for stealing a ride on a freight train. They boarded the tram at Berwick, and refused to get off, so the trainmen locked them in a freight car, and delivered them to a policeman when they reached here.

The following officers of the Electric Light Company were elected at the annual meeting last Monday:

President, W. R. Tubbs; Secretary, L. E. Waller; Treasurer, C. C. Peacock; Directors, I. W. Willits, C. W. Miller, C. C Peacock, W. R. Tubbs, L. E. Waller.

The little grand daughter of L. N. Moyer had a narrow escape from death Wednesday. The little one got at some morphine pills, and eat some, no one knew how many. The child soon grew sleepy, but they exercised it all afternoon and kept her awake until the drug had spent its force.

Miss Madge Campbell, daughter of C. H. Campbell, will start for Los Angelos, California, Monday of next week and will be absent about a year. She will visit Mr. Campbell's brother at San Bernandina. Miss Stella Low and a lady friend of Shickshinny will accompany her.

The ladies' of the Lutheran church served an excellent supper in the basement of the old Presbyterian church last Friday evening. Everybody got a great big fifty cents worth. Although they were liberally patronized, so much was left that it was decided to serve a supper on Saturday evening also, for fifteen cents, and again the tables were crowded, and everything was eaten up. The Bloomsburg ladies can beat the world in getting up a square meal.

A cold wave visited us Tuesday afternoon. The mercury dropped to twenty degrees. From 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. there was a change of about 35 degrees. The wave was not local, but covered the Atlantic coast extending to Florida, and will no doubt have an injurious effect upon the orange crop. On the 27 and 28 of November 1887, a similar cold wave swept over the gulf states and brought ruin to the orange trees and fruit.

Friendship Fire Company will give a grand ball in City Hall, Wednesday evening of next week, November 25th. They should receive a liberal patronage. No one is more self sacrificing than a fireman and the Friendship Fire Company has not been an exception. For many years they have bravely fought the fires, and with no compensation, now that an opportunity is given citizens generally should patronize them. Beside it will prove a great evening of enjoyment.

A petition will be presented at the next Court asking that more places for voting shall be provided for the town of Bloomsburg. For several years past the voters have not been able to be accommodated. There are now over one thousand voters in the town.

In our cities the outside limit to any district is 250 voters. In the East ward in Bloomsburg there are over 600 voters. A plan of division has already been prepared and will be presented to the Court in December, The division should be made at once before the booths are prepared for the new election law which goes into effect next spring.

PATHWAY OF GOLD.

In the light of the moon, by the side of the water,
As I sit on the sand and she on my knees
We watch the bright billows, do I and my daughter,
My sweet little daughter Louise.
We wonder what city the pathway of glory,
That broadens away to the limitless west,
Leads up to—she minds her of some pretty story
And says: "To the city that mortals love best."
Then I say: "It must lead to the fara way city,
The beautiful city of rest."

In the light of the moon, by the side of the water,
Stand two in the shadow of whispering trees,
And one loves my daughter, my beautiful daughter,
My womanly daughter Louise.
She steps to the boat with the touch of his fingers,
And out on the diamond pathway they move;
The shallop is lost in the distance, it lingers,
It waits, but I know that its coming will prove
That it went to the walls of the wonderful city,
The magical City of Love.

In the light of the moon, by the side of the water,
I wait for her coming from over the seas;
I wait but to welcome the dust of my daughter,
To weep for my daughter Louise.
The path, as of old, reaching out in its splendor,
Gleams bright like a way that an angel has trod;
I kiss the cold burden its billows surrender,
Sweet clay to lie under the pitiful sod:
But she rests at the end of the path, in the city
Whose "builder and maker is God."

CHUMMING WITH AN APACHE

Never go chumming with an Apache, says the San Francisco Argonaut. You smile at such strange advice? Well, I might have smiled at it once myself. But we are all creatures of circumstance, and I was a tenderfoot then, anyway. This is how I chummed in with my little Indian:

I was swinging my red and blue clubs under the pepper tree at the back of the railroad station. This I did because I had a theory that exercise was good for a man living on a desert. The lazy Mexicans and most of the Americans thereabouts had no ruddy glow on their faces. They were all sallow. What I wanted was a ruddy glow.

My red and blue clubs circled about very prettily that day, and the ruddy glow came; also a dripping epidermis and a big desire to sit down in the shade of the pepper tree and blow tobacco smoke. The tree was a small one. When the station tank ran over, which was not often, its roots received a little moisture. So it grew, slowly.

As soon as I dropped my clubs a squeal of disgust went up from somewhere, and as I turned about I saw a small brown head dart behind a cactus lined rock.

I said nothing, but leaned back on my seat, pulled my sombrero down over my face, and shammed sleep, with one half closed eye on the rock and the big cactus shrubs. No use. You can not get an Apache out of his hole that way.

Next day, with my beautiful exercise theory still bristling in my brain, I turned quickly, while in the midst of my club swinging, and saw the wide open eyes and gasping mouth of the cunningest little savage I had ever beheld. He sprang about and fled behind the rock, but not too quickly for me to read "XXX Family Flour" in large red letters on his back. His one short garment was a cotton sack, with holes cut through it for his head and arms.

"Come, Tads," I cried, christening him in that fleeting second with a name that stuck to him all his life, "out of that!" And I jumped behind the rock, swinging an open hand that did not grasp the flour sack as I had intended it should.

Where was the wee savage!

Like a lizard he had darted from sight somewhere in that little patch of rocks and cactus, though there did not appear to be cover enough there to conceal a jack rabbit.

"The spines must scratch him," I thought as I looked at the prickly cactus; but I did not know then how Apaches put up with such small irritations. Not wanting to give the boy unnecessary torture I went back to my clubs. Throwing my eyes about again I caught another fleeting glimpse of the brown head as it dodged behind the rock.

Tads must have been disappointed next day, for there was no club swinging under the pepper tree. The duties of telegraph agent lay too heavily upon me, and the sun lay too heavily upon the desert. I saw Tad steal away from his lair about two hours after my usual exercise time and walk down the sand drifts with a dejected air, his one garment flapping in the hot wind.

A wild nature like his was proof against such snares as the toothsome confection, the golden orange, or the mealy peanut. I found that out by trial in the course of the next week. But an old jackknife won him over. That was something his Apache mind could grasp. It was a greater delight to him than the red and blue clubs. Sworn friends from that day were Tads and I. His talk was a ridiculous mixture of English, Spanish, and Apache, and his voice was very throaty. But I understood him.

Indian like, he said little. It was, therefore, easy to get along with him. He would sit for hours on a high stool, listening to the "tunk-tunk-tunk" of my sounder. The telegraph was an awful mystery to him at first, and it squelched his imagination; but he solved the problem at last. A man away off over the mountain spoke with his finger to me and I spoke back to him. That was his idea of it, and it was not such a bad one, either. The hummings of the wires overhead were the voices of people with ponderous fingers, but they were not of this world.

How the cowboys laughed when they saw Tads and me in the station!

"That tenderfoot's a queer one," they said of me.

The despised Apache could not crawl into their hearts—no, not even if he were a 6 year old.

"He'll steal everything the tenderfoot's got," they pleasantly averred. But he did not.

When Tads left the station of an evening his little brown feet pattered straight over the road to the wickiups, a half mile away. In time he wore a narrow trail over to the huts.

"Pitty vell," was what Tads would grunt to me every day when he came shyly into the office and I greeted him with a friendly "How-de-do?" Then he would shrug his shoulders in a way that wrinkled the three Xs into such bewildering folds that you could not have read them unless you had known what they were beforehand.

One day while he was meandering about the place, grunting quietly to himself, he upset one of my battery jars.

"Tads," I cried angrily, for the desert's breath was hot upon me and was irritating enough, let alone spilled vitriol, "you're a little beast! Skip out of here, or I'll take a stick to you!"

Then arose a great howl from Tads, and he kept on howling until an Apache woman came over the sands from wickiups and gathered him up in her arms. She was his mother. She eyed me suspiciously and walked away with her highly demonstrative burden.

Of course I regretted my hot language and wanted the little beggar back again. It was so lonely there on the desert. The wires wailed so heart brokenly, while the sun beat down so fiercely in the daytime, and the coyotes yelled so dolefully at night. How he had crept into my heart, to be sure!

It was several days before we were on satisfactory terms again. Tads wanted to be a white man. He wanted to make "talk marks" on "pupper" with a feather—I sometimes used a quill pen, be it remarked—and he wanted to speak with his finger. Well, I did manage to teach him a few letters from a railroad poster, and he learned to drawl out "T-a-d-s" in a droll way. With perseverance that was really startling, I afterward took him in an uncertain way through a page or two of "Can You See the Fat Ox," and so on, wherefore his heart was glad.

"I'll be white mans, heap sure," he declared in his bullfrog voice, after he had accomplished this wonderful feat.

Great distress reached Tad's soul on the fatal day when the wickiups were taken down and the tribe mounted their mustangs to go over the hills. Apaches had to search all over the station to find Tads. At last they hauled him forth from under my bunk, screaming like mad. Of no avail were his screams; of no avail were his cry, "Me yanter to stay wid him; me yanter be w'ite ma..s!"

Apache papas are unbending and Apache mammas are inexorable. Away they whisked Tads, leaving behind him a tenderfoot with a queer feeling in his throat.

"Well, the boy has the instincts of a white man," I said, for I was proud of what I fancied I had made of him, "and he'll be a shining light among those devilish people of his. If we had a few more like him to put among them, the Apache question would settle itself, and we could set our soldiers to hoeing corn."

Then I took up the restless life of a city man, and a big and busy railroad office claimed a good share of my attention for the next 10 years. Yes, it was fully that long before I again set foot upon the desert. Our train stopped at the old station. How the pepper tree had grown, to be sure! In its shade sat a cavalry sergeant with a half dozen of his men about him, and in their midst were three Indian prisoners who were being taken to the fort to be shot.

They were fierce looking fellows, those three savages. There was one, the youngest, who was a perfect demon, the soldiers said.

"Killed three women and two babies down at Mustang Wash last Tuesday," said the sergeant to me, "just after one of them had given him his breakfast, too. He is a young one, not more than 17, I should say, but he's the worst red devil I ever saw."

Gazing at the boy captive, a strange feeling stole over me. The stolid face was oddly familiar.

"His name? Blessed if I know," said the sergeant; "what do you call yourself, young one?" he asked, giving him a not too delicate poke with the toe of his boot.

"Me? Why my name's Tads!" grunted the boy.

"Talks pretty good English for a wild devil who has been over the Mexican border so long, doesn't he?" asked the sergeant, turning to me.

But I said nothing.

Might Make a Small Beginning.

He was a big, blustering fellow, and when he stepped into the store the proprietor hurried to wait on him. His purchases amounted to about two dollars and a half, and when they were all wrapped up he said:

"Charge it to me. I'll drop in to-morrow and settle it."

"No," said the little proprietor.

"What!" cried the big man. "Don't you know who I am? I'm——"

"I know that," said the the proprietor. "But that is all I know about you. I can't charge it."

"You can't? Why, I can buy your blamed store."

"Yes," acquiesced the little man mildly.

"Including the building and lot."

"Yes."

"And you won't charge it then to me?"

"No."

The big man seemed to swell up with wrath.

"Look here," he cried. "I'll buy your whole outfit. I'll show you whether I am good for two dollars and a half or not. Just you begin to figure on the price and I'll come in to-morrow and take the shop. I'll show you what I am worth."

"You might begin now," said the little man.

"What?"

"You might begin to-day. You might buy that package now and you won't have so much on your mind for to-morrow. I'm willing to knock off the interest on the two dollars and a half for a day."

Then the people had to come in from the street to prevent a disturbance.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

Boys Find $800 In Gold.

MAY BE PART OF "RED NOSE MIKE'S" BOOTY OR WHAT WAS TAKEN FROM MEYERS.

WILKES-BARRE, Nov. 16.—On Wednesday two little boys, Thomas Joseph and William Jones, found about $800 in gold and silver hidden in a hole on the borders of a wood near Miner's Mills. They were scraping away some dirt to build a little fort when they came upon the money. Who hid it is a mystery, but the fact of its finding gives rise to two questions, one which involves the guilt or innocence of a man now in prison, and the other forming an interesting point about a great murder.

Some five months ago Henry Meyers, a driver for Rechard & Co., came into town and told a startling story of having been held up by highwaymen near Miner's Mills, and relieved of a sum of money belonging to his employers. His story was not believed and he was arrested, tried for larceny, convicted, and sentenced to three months, which he is now serving.

He now claims that the money found by the boys is the sum stolen from him and hidden by the highwaymen. Why they should bury it is not explained, but his attorneys are investigating, and hope to prove that Myers is innocent

The other and more probable theory is, that it is part of the money stolen when the famous McClure murder took place. It was found within a mile of the scene of the crime. Captain Linden, who was engaged on the McClure case, discovered that not all of the $12,000 stolen had been taken to Italy by Bevivinio and Vellela, and Red Nosed Mike, just before he was hanged, said there was some of the money still hidden. The little boys have advertised in legal form, and should no owner be found, they will keep the money.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. mar-6-1y.

The Largest Passenger Elevators in the World.

The largest elevators for carrying passengers in the world have just been completed on the banks of the Hudson, near Weehawken. The high tableland in New Jersey, opposite New York city, and between the Hudson River and the Hackensack, has up to this time not been used as generally for purposes of pleasure and residence as it should have been. The elevated plain, known as the Palisades, is at its beginning some one hundred and fifty feet above high tide, and is over a mile wide at the same point. It stretches north for many miles up the Hudson River, and naturally rises in elevation as it proceeds. This high land has been accessible only by steep grades for wagon roads, and by means of stairways which climbed laboriously up the steep cliff. The Hudson County Railway Company, which operates the elevated road at Hoboken and controls many of the street car lines in that neighborhood, has of late years been extending these lines, and increasing the facilities for getting on top of the Palisades, and from one part of this high plateau to another. The most recent addition to the plant of this company has been the building of huge elevators at Weehawken, where the ferry-boats from Forty-second Street and Jay Street. New York city, discharge their passengers, and where also the West Shore Railway starts north and west to Albany and Buffalo. These elevators are the largest ever constructed for passengers, and in planning them the engineers have adopted new devices to secure their safety against accidents. From the elevators, which rise just from the water's edge, there is an immense viaduct or elevated railroad which runs some eight hundred feet back to the hill, where connections will be made with the various steam and horse cars which will run in one direction and another.—Harper's Weekly.

How Champagne is Made

"Yes," the speaker continued, "the making of champagne is interesting. The grapes go through three pressings. The juice from the first is the best, and with each pressing the quality of the wine is reduced. After the pressing the juice is put into vats, and if it does not ferment in twenty-four hours a fire is put into the room. Then it is transferred into other casks, in which it is left during November, December, January and up to April. Next it is mixed in other vats, each containing 300,000 gallons. After this it is drawn off into bottles and allowed to remain in cellars for six months to test its strength. Now comes another portion of the work. The bottles are placed end down, on what is called a pupitre, and allowed to remain for a month, so that all the sediment can collect on the corks. The cork is gradually eased till it flies. A mixture of liqueur is then put in, the bottles are recorked by one man, wired by another, till each one does a portion of the necessary work, all being done at the same time. The liqueur consists of rock candy, spirit and alcohol. Altogether it takes two years to make a bottle of champagne, and it passes through sixteen hands before it is fit to be turned out. One house supplies the different Courts. The Russians must have theirs mixed with 16 per cent of the liqueur, and the Belgiums 12. The German Emperor has his of the driest quality, and so does the Court of England. The greater the amount of liqueur the sweeter the champagne."

14 MONTHS IN BED. "Mrs. Kelly requests me to write you in regard to what S. S. S. has done for her son, who has been sick so long with an abscess. She had two physicians, and they did everything for him that they could and he didn't improve. For fourteen months and five days he was in bed and not dressed. Some one recommended your S. S. S., and after he had taken two or three bottles he began to improve. He continued until he had taken eleven bottles, and today he is as well as ever. The boy is fourteen years old, and Mrs. Kelly lives next door to me, and I am well acquainted with the facts of the case." C. W. HODGKINS, Postmaster, East Lamoine, Maine. Swift's Specific has a wonderful effect on children and young people. It should be given to every child who has any blood trouble or blood taint. It drives out the poison and poisonous germs, and enables nature to develop the child. Our treatise on the blood and skin will be mailed free to all applicants.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

ABOUT THAT CONVENTION.

EDS. COLUMBIAN:

In reading over the Sentinel of November 6, my attention was called to the most remarkable article on the second page, headed "The Convention." It is so full of inaccuracies and misstatements that it ought not to be passed by unnoticed. It begins thus:

"The proposition for a Constitutional Convention has been snowed under by a large vote, and that, too, in face of the fact that both parties were pledged to its support."

The first part of this statement is correct. The constitutional convention was "snowed under" by a majority in the state nearly twice as large as the entire vote in its favor. It was more than a snow storm; it was a regular cyclone. The majority against it is 246,775. But this was not "in the face of the fact that both parties were pledged to its support." Neither Governor Pattison nor the democratic party ever promised the people that they would give them an oportunity to vote upon the proposition to hold a constitutional convention. Governor Pattison recommended certain amendments to the constitution in a message to the Legislature, and favored the passage of a bill providing for holding a convention without submitting the question to a vote of the people. Had this recommendation been adopted, and a convention become a fixed fact, the only thing left for the people to do, would be the selection of competent and honest delegates to sit in that convention, and there would have been no difficulty about the whole matter. But the uncertainty as to whether there would be a convention drove able men from the field, and in many districts led to the selection of delegates who were in no way fitted for this very important position. In our own district there is an instance of this. The democratic nominee from Montour county would never have been thought of for an instant for the place, if there had been any certainty of a convention.

The Democratic party did not endorse the proposition. It is a well-known fact that strong efforts were made at the state convention to introduce a resolution giving an unqualified endorsement of the convention. This was voted down in committee, and as a compromise, the few words endorsing it only to a limited extent, were inserted in the resolutions. This was meaningless, for the law submitting the question to a vote provided for a convention to make a new constitution, with power to change the constitution from beginning to end.

But it is useless to discuss this question. The overwhelming vote against the convention shows that the better judgment of the people prevailed, and to charge it to the influence of the corporations is the sheerest nonsense and an insult to the intelligence and integrity of an overwhelming majority of the voters of this commonwealth.

The article in question contains the following:

"Had the democratic leaders of this state been honest with the party and put in nomination for Auditor General a man whom the farmers and laborers had confidence, instead of a corporation lawyer whom the voters distrusted, and then declared unqualifiedly for a convention, and fought the battle on those lines, the democratic flag would be floating inside the breastworks, instead of being trailed in ignominious defeat."

In the light of all the facts, this is a most astounding speech for the Sentinel to make. Does it forget that a Democratic county convention was held in Bloomsburg last August, and that the owner of the Sentinel, William Krickbaum, claimed all the credit for the result of the primary election? Does it forget that he made himself chairman of that convention, and that he ran everything to suit his own sweet will? Does it forget that he selected the five delegates to the state convention and had his county convention elect them, and that four out of the five men of his selection, voted for the nomination of Robert E. Wright for Auditor General? And yet he has the gall to say that the Democratic leaders were not honest with their party in nominating Wright. Such trash makes one tired; it is absolutely nauseating. But here is another dose of the same kind:

"Quay issued the order that the convention proposition must be voted down, and then at once our party leaders decided to carry on the campaign on the lines laid down by the republican boss. Even the democratic press fell under the influence of Quay and the corporations and stultified itself by doing their bidding. In our county the Sentinel was the only paper that dared advocate the interests of the people, while all the rest took their cue from Quay and the corporations. We are more than pleased with the result in this county. Although the corporation ring of this county, backed by the whole republican party and a subsidized press did all in their power to mislead and deceive the people, yet the vote shows that the proposition has about 400 majority."

I want to call your attention just here, to the fact that these extracts are from an editorial printed in a paper that pretends to be Democratic. Such wholesale charges of corruption against the Democratic leaders and press, usually come from the Republican papers, but here is a man elected to office repeatedly as a democrat, now filling a second term in the Legislature, who publicly charges that the Democratic leaders are controlled by Quay and the Republican party, and that the Democratic press is "subsidized" by the corporations and in collusion with the Republican party. If Mr. Krickbaum wants to make anybody believe that his newspaper efforts in these matters have all been honest and conscientious, while all the other editors are "subsidized," he will have to move to some other county where he is not known. It is perfectly well understood that he was in favor of a constitutional convention, because the law provided that the new constitution, when adopted, shall be published in two newspapers in each county, and he expected to get the job, which would have been worth several hundred dollars. That is the milk in that cocoanut. This is what he calls "advocating the interests of the people." But the Sentinel is "more than pleased with the result in this county" on the convention question How very easily it is pleased! The proposition has 400 majority, which is 1400 less than the Democratic majority on the state ticket, and 2600 less than Mr. Krickbaum claimed on the day of the election that it would have His newspaper and all his assistants worked vigorously for weeks to get up a sentiment in favor of a convention, and the result is a paltry 400, with nobody actively fighting him. I am glad that he is pleased. With all his frantic yelps about the "corporation ring" and the "subsidized press" and and all his transparent demagoguery about the farmer and the tax-payer and the laborer, he succeeded in pulling his pet scheme through by the skin of its teeth, and this pleases him. Well, such smiles are hard earned, and he is welcome to them.

There is one thing that now excites my curiosity, and that is this:

How long will the people tolerate this continuous abuse of Democratic leaders, Democratic papers, Democratic office holders, and the Democratic party generally from such a source?

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON D C. Nov. 16. 1891.

Mr. Harrison is usually very careful of the language he uses in his public speeches, but he made a break in his speech of welcome to Senor Montt, the new Chilian minister, that will be snickered at in diplomatic circles all over the civilized world. After telling the minister how glad we was to receive him, he told him of the policy of this Government in dealing with its neighbors unfortunate enough to suffer from internal dissensions and civil war. Said he: "It is our policy to preserve an honorable and strict neutrality, as was done during the late war in Chili. Tempting commercial and political advantages may be offered for our aid or influence by one or the other of the contending parties, but this we have not deemed to be consistent with the obligations of international honor and good will." It surely must have been difficult for Senor Montt to keep his face straight while listening to this high-flown talk, in view of the very short time since the newspapers of the entire world were ringing with charges of bad faith made by this Government against Hypolyte, the present president of Hayti, because of his refusal to cede the Mole St. Nicholas to the United States, in keeping with the promise he had made to obtain the support of this Government to aid him in driving President Legitime out of Hayti, and in assuming the presidency thereof himself.

That was an odd sort of honorable neutrality, wasn't it? And Senor Montt must have wondered if Mr. Harrison considered his bargain with the insurgent Hipolyte "consistent with the obligations of international honor and good will." Even Mr. Harrison's friends admit that he made a mistake in the phrasing of this speech, short as it was.

It is evident that some sort of a deal is being hatched, whereby the postmasters of the country are to make their influence felt in the election of delegates to the republican National Convention. It is needless to say that this movement is in the interest of the present occupant of the White House. It is being manipulated by Boss Clarkson. aided by Mr. Wanamaker, who is said to be ambitious of becoming a politician. Within the last week a number of the more prominent postmasters have been in Washington, and none of them went away until Clarkson had taken them to Mr. Wanamaker's residence, where a secret conference was held at which the whole programme was gone over and explained, as far as Boss Clarkson deems it wise to trust the postmasters. The only aid that Mr. Wanamaker can give is to let the postmasters know that he approves of their undertaking the work mapped out for them by Boss Clarkson, who lets them understand that Mr. Harrison is behind him.

It is now stated that Secretary Foster has made up his mind, after consulting Mr. Harrison. not to make a change in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, notwithstanding the popular impression on that the incumbent, Mr. Lacey, had by his seeming carelessness in the matter of the wrecked national banks in Philadelphia, Boston and elsewhere, lost the confidence of the public, which it is so necessary for the holder of that position to have, if discredit is not to be brought upon the entire National banking system. It is understood that Secretary Foster will, in his annual report, attempt to show that it is weakness in the law and not lack of vigilance on the part of Government officials that is to blame for the hoodwinking of the department by unsound banks.

If confidence were votes, all of the candidates for Speaker would be elected. Votes are mighty scarce here, because the members of the House are apparently in no hurry to arrive. It is noticeable that the fighting between the friends of several of the leading candidates has again taken on the vicious and personally abusive style that was so much deprecated by the cool headed friends of all the candidates when it was first begun several months ago. These hot-heads seem to lose sight of the fact that when they abuse a candidate every word they say is treasured up by the republicans for future use against the entire democratic party. The great mass of the democratic party has no favorite for Speaker; all it asks is that the man selected be sound upon the fundamental principles of the party.

If the news received by the Brazilian minister here is trustworthy, the flurry in that country is over and the republic still lives.

Ex-Governor Foraker is here, ostensibly on professional business, but it is known that he is pulling some wires that run pretty close to Mr. Blaine in order to get help in his fight against Sherman. He is going home to-day, but he will return on the 23rd inst., to help the Cincinnati folks try to capture the republican National Convention.

Complete State Election Returns.

The official vote of the election in Pennsylvania as computed at Harrisburg is as follows:

In a total vote of 789,524, General Gregg received 414,583, Robert E. Wright 356,431, and Hague 18,510—a Republican plurality of 58,152 for Auditor General.

Morrison has 412,894, Tilden 358,618. and Drayton 18,429—giving a Republican plurality of 54,277 for State Treasurer.

The call for a Constitutional Convention was lost overwhelmingly. The vote cast for is 173,813, and that cast against is 420,598, the adverse majority being 246,775.

The Prohibition vote is surprisingly small, being less than 18,600.

Catarrh

Is a complaint so common that comparatively few people are entirely free from it, so insidious that it gains a firm hold almost before its victims are aware of its presence, so dangerous as to seriously threaten the general health, and liable to develop into bronchitis or Consumption.

It is a mistake to consider Catarrh merely a local trouble. It is unquestionably a disease of the blood, and therefore the right way to cure Catarrh is to remove from the blood the impurities which cause and feed it. This is to be done by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which effectually expels all traces of poison and germs of disease.

"I have been troubled for years with and have never received the least benefit from the many so-called catarrh cures. Of late I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and can honestly say that I am certainly improved. I know Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a good medicine." H. A. GEORGE, Athol, Mass.

Stuffed-up Feeling

"For years I have been troubled with that terrible disagreeable disease, Catarrh. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling." MRS. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best blood purifier, the best nerve helper, the best strength builder. Try it.

If it's sure enough for them to make the offer, it's sure enough for you to make the trial.

They risk $500. What do you risk?

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. W. J. Bidleman died suddenly at her home Saturday evening of heart failure. She was about 57 years of age. She was a sister of Michael, William and Owen Eyerly. The deceased was an active member of the Lutheran church for over 40 years. She assisted in giving a turkey dinner at the old Presbyterian church Friday and Saturday evenings. Upon her return home late Saturday evening she complained of shortness of breath. Her husband went after a physician, but before his return she breathed her last. She leaves behind to mourn her loss, a husband and five daughters, four of whom are married. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, conducted by her late pastor Rev. P. A. Heilman. The church was filled with friends who were anxious to show their last tribute of respect to one who was faithful, and loved to work in the church to which she had so long been a member.

WEALTH—Is something which most people seek, and which but few are indifferent to, no matter in what form it presents itself. The word "pecuniary." is often used in speaking of a man's riches, comes from the Latin word pecus, which means cattle, and shows that formerly a man's wealth was reckoned by the cattle he possessed. Abraham is said to have been "very rich in cattle, in silver, and in gold." But no matter in what a man's riches may consist, it is all vanity and vexation of spirit, unless in connection therewith he has health. Emerson fully understood this when he said "the first wealth is health," and we have no doubt if he had known the virtues of S. S. S. that he would have recommended its use to all persons suffering from the diseases for which it is recommended.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. PAPER WITH SILK IN IT.

Something About the Fiber on Which U. S. Notes Are Printed.

Anybody who wishes can go into the big Crane & Co.'s factory at Dalton, Mass., and see the workmen place the blue silk on the machine that makes the paper for all the United States notes. The silk comes in spools, and is made by Belding, of Northampton. It is sold here in Bangor. There is no more secret about it than there is about the water flowing over the dam above the toll bridge.

The real secret is in the composition of the paper. The silk thread is secured by patent, to be sure, but the making of the paper, the compound of the ingredients, is safe in the head of J. Murray Crane, who received the art from his father, who made bonds for Salmon P. Chase, Lincoln's Secretary of the Treasury, away back in war times.

The pure linen pulp is in a big room, lookin' for all the world like any linen pulp. Then comes J. Murray Crane with a gripsack. He and the "grip" enter the room together, and it is presumed that he locks the door, for the door is locked on the inside, and the "grip" does not look able to do it.

They are closeted a half an hour. When they come out the pulp goes to the paper machine, and Mr. Crane and the grip go home. But the pulp is changed by that visit and nobody has been able to penetrate the Crane secret. The company gets about 50 times as much for that paper as for other linen paper made in the same mill.—Bangor News.

Rest as a Law of Physics.

The fact is known to most persons in a general way that locomotives and other forms of machinery have an almost human faculty of getting "tired" at times; and it is more definitely known to all men who shave—especially if they shave themselves—that razors must have their seasons of rest in order to develop their best edges. It is not so well known, however, that the same principle is in a sense a law of physics, and that it applies no less to such insensate things as precious stones. That it does so apply is vouched for by a St. Louis jeweler, who says:

Any one in the business will tell you what a heavy loss a man may incur by jewels in his safe or showcase going off in appearance. All the cleaning in the world won't help them, and all the time they are getting to look more and more shabby, until at last they have no salable value. If they are sent away to another city they frequently brace up of their own accord and come back looking bright and lustrous.

Incredible as such a statement may appear to many persons, there is ample reason for the belief that it is a matter of personal experience, and one by no means noted for the first time by those whose business throws them into daily contact with gems. But this curious fact has a higher bearing and application than its relation to physics. It is as true with respect to the priceless jewel of human health as of any other jewel. Human health needs a change of air and surroundings at certain intervals, or it will fade and lose luster. The lack luster eye of the person who is not sick, but merely "run down," is the dulling of the jewel. Happy are they who are so circumstanced that they can take a day off, or a whole week, to polish up their health against the sands of the seashore, or even with the pleasant attraction that comes of contact with new natures and unfamiliar scenes.

It Hit the Married Couples.

There are lullabys for babies and waltzes for young maidens; there are drinking songs for the wild oat sowers and love songs for them that love to tarry in the gloaming. But I heard last Sunday the one piece of music that twanged upon the heartstrings of the married people.

Gilmore's band was playing "Reminiscences of Mendelssohn," and a thousand heads were wagging an accompaniment.

Suddenly, by way of finale, the "Wedding March" struck up. The effect was electrical. All over the audience the wedded pairs looked at each other and smiled tenderly. It was a reminiscence. What happy visions it called up!

Here was a couple, homely, raw, from the country evidently, who had just started out to guide the plough together. The march had been played for them in the little village church not long ago, but now they heard it played indeed.

They leaned a little closer together, and her big hand, fixed out to kill in cotton mits, which showed the wedding ring, sought his and held it.

And all through the audience I saw signs of the pictures called up by that fragrant and alluring bit of music. Old couples and young, rich and poor, those who live like cats and dogs together, and those who have learned the pleasant alchemy of forebearance in wedded life, all were for the moment bewitched.

Ta, ta, tara-rara, tum tiddle de dum de di do. It fairly makes me reminiscent myself, though they played Wagner at my blessed wedding.—New York Herald.

Chauncey's European Interview.

Before one of Chauncey M. Depew's departures for Europe, says the New York Tribune, the probability of being attacked by European reporters was suggested to him. The suggestion recalled an incident which happened several years ago. "I remember," he said, "that once a German reporter called upon me and said that the newspapers of Germany had heard a great deal of the American interviewer, and he thought an American interview would help him with the paper which he represented.

"One would think," said Mr. Depew, "that there was no chance for fun there. But after talking with the reporter for an hour and a half I told him that I really could not give him any more time, and then he wanted to know when he could come for an American interview. I told him: 'My dear fellow, you have been having it for an hour and a half.' I afterward yielded to his earnest solicitations and dictated an interview, and afterward corrected it. The manuscript was still awaiting further corrections in the office when I left the country."

Did you Drink Lion Coffee For Breakfast,?

A STIRRING BUSINESS.

Yes, a regular revolution business, in which one sale helps to make another.

The people make us stir around to fill orders, and evidently believe we do a fair square business. Seeing we have such a large patronage too, convinces others they better try us, and so the trade increases. We're happy over it, and so are all our customers. The demand for our bread, cakes and candies (our own manufacture), is greater than ever, but we are ready to supply the demand. As the holidays are now coming on you will be thinking of Clear Toys. Give us a trial on these goods.

AMOS W. DREIBELBIS,
A. L. FRITZ, Atty. Trustee

PAID $5,000 FOR TWO BRICKS.

An Ohio Farmer Thought They Were Gold, But They Turned Out to be Clay.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 14.—One of the most novel, curious and extremely well laid plans for fleecing money from credulous farmers has just been unfolded within a few miles of this city. The victim is Herbert Rose, one of the wealthiest farmers in this section, and that he should fall into the trap is the wonder of the community.

The schemer gave his name as James McIntosh, and his home as Arizona. He gave out that he and an Indian were interested in a gold mine, and that he was in this section hunting for his uncle, whose name was Hubert Rose. He learned that he lived in Salem, and that he had recently moved to Ravenna. Going there, he was informed that he was dead.

Learning that Hubert Rose lived here, and being almost heartbroken over the loss of his uncle, he worked upon the sympathies of the unsuspecting farmer, who did not tumble until too late.

Gold bricks were shown him, which were tested and proved to be genuine. The schemer offered a third interest in the mine, and, furthermore, he would dispose of the two bricks, which he valued at $30,000, for $5,000.

Mr. Rose consented to interest himself in the mine and also take the bricks at that figure. A time was set for the transfer and at night, when the moon was shining bright, $5,000 were given for two bricks, not of gold, but of burned clay covered with brass.

Mr. Rose is a very much beat man and is using every means in his power to intercept the swindler. Unsuspecting farmers in Indiana and elsewhere in this State have been bitten by the same scheme. Mr. Rose feels satisfied that the nuggets were good gold and still believes that such was the case, a confederate changing them for worthless stuff after the test had been made.

A FOOLISH HEIRESS.

She Elopes With a Married Man and Loses a Legacy.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 14.—Rev. E. A. Devare, of Dayton, Ohio, is in this city searching for his pretty niece, who, he claims, eloped from Dayton two weeks ago with George Eis, a married man and the father of two children.

Lulu Devare, a pretty, sweet-faced girl of seventeen, lived with her grandmother, who has an elegant house on Detroit street, and is said to be possessed of a large fortune. Not long ago the old lady made a will and Lulu was designated as her sole heir. The fortune is said to amount to nearly $30,000 and the girl has about $40,000 in her own name in a Dayton bank.

Lulu met George Eis and fell in love with him. He proposed that they elope, and she consented. Two weeks ago last Tuesday they took a train for Franklin, Ohio. From there Miss Devare telegraphed to her uncle and grandmother, saying she would explain later. From Franklin they arrived here last Thursday and engaged rooms, giving their names as Mr. and Mrs. George W. Graham.

There they met Charles Burns, a young man who formerly resided in Dayton. Eis recognized Burns, and yesterday he and Miss Devare disappeared. This morning Mr. Devare swore out a warrant for the arrest of Eis, charging him with abduction. The grandmother has made a new will, leaving the girl entirely out, and the $40,000 in the Dayton Bank has been taken in charge by Miss Devare's guardian.

Black Diphtheria Devastating Ohio.

BATAVIA, Ohio, Nov. 14.—Black diphtheria in an unusually virulent form is epidemic at several points in Warren and Clermont counties. The disease first appeared at Hill's Station, in Warren county, and practically the whole village has the disease, the deaths averaging ninety-nine per cent. of the cases. Business is wholly suspended and the schools are closed. From Hill's Station the scourge spread in all directions, and fully 500 cases now exist. The death list is something frightful. Physicians are almost exhausted, and funeral processions are never out of sight. The epidemic is attributed to low water consequent upon the long drought.

Gov. Campbell at Donn Piatt's Funeral.

WEST LIBERTY, O., Nov. 15.—Donn Piatt was buried to-day at Mac-o-chee. The ceremony was the simple service of the Catholic Church, and the body was laid to rest in the family tomb without display, but the long line of carriages that followed the hearse to the grave told of the esteem in which he was held. The Rev. Father William Conway, of Bellfontaine, performed the obsequies. Archbishop Elder being unable to be present. Among the pall-bearers were Gov. Campbell, Col. Frank S. Bond, of New York; Gen. Henry M. Cist and Judge Moses F. Wilson, of Cincinnati.

Sixty-Nine Families Homeless.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Sixty-nine families were made homeless and $200,000 worth of property destroyed by a disastrous fire which broke out at No. 120 Nostrand avenue, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning. The fire soon extended to Nos. 122, 124 and 126 on one side, and 118, 116, 114, 112 and 110 on the other. They were all wrecked above the third story.

Big Fire in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17.—The Famous dry goods, clothing, boot and shoe house, Sonnenfield's millinery house and Penny & Gentle's dry goods house, on North Broadway, between Franklin avenue and Morgan street, were burned at 4 o'clock this morning. The loss will foot up over $1,000,000

A FORTUNE

Inherited by few, is pure blood, free from hereditary taint. Catarrh, consumption, rheumatism, Scrofula, and many other maladies born in the blood, can be effectually eradicated only by the use of powerful alteratives. The standard specific for this purpose—the one best known and approved—is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the compound, concentrated extract of Honduras sarsaparilla, and other powerful alteratives.

"I consider that I have been several hundred dollars' expense, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and would strongly urge all who are troubled with lameness or rheumatic pains to give it a trial. I am sure it will do them permanent good, as it has done me."—Mrs. Joseph Wood, West Plattsburgh, N. Y.

Dr. J. W. Shields, of Smithville, Tenn., says: "I regard Ayer's Sarsaparilla as the best blood medicine on earth, and know of many wonderful cures effected by its use."

"For many years I was laid up with Scrofula, no treatment being of any benefit. At length I was recommended to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. I did so, and about a dozen bottles, was restored to perfect health—weighing 230 pounds—and am now a believer in the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—James Petsy, Mine Boss, Breckenridge Coal Co. (Limited), Victoria, Ky.

"My niece, Sarah A. Losee, was for years afflicted with scrofulous humor in the blood. About 18 months ago she began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and after taking three bottles was completely cured."—E. Caffall, P. M., Losee, Utah.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.

Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer has'n't the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.

THROUGH FLOOD TO SAFETY.

Fifty Miners Almost Literally Within an Inch of Losing Their Lives.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 13.—About ½ o'clock yesterday afternoon the great pumps that cast out thousands of gallons of water from the Leggett's Creek coal mine broke, and the mine began to flood. Fifty miners hurried in great alarm to reach the carriage which conveys them to the surface. They found that their avenue of escape had been cut off. The only other way to reach the surface was to face the raging waters, pass through them, and reach a narrow passageway which led to the shaft of the Von Storch mine.

With stern faces the miners waded into the water, which grew deeper every step. Soon it reached their knees, then their hips, and then their shoulders, but still they went on. To turn back meant death; ahead was hope of safety. For a thousand feet the men trudged on with the water up to their necks. Soon they were compelled to throw their heads sideways. With one ear in the sulphur water, and occasionally gulping in the water as they breathed, they steadily strove to reach safety hundreds of yards away.

John Jones, a Welsh miner, finally despaired and asked the others to go on and leave him to perish, but they would not and assisted him along. Suddenly one of the men found his shoulders rising above the water, and five minutes later all were on dry land.

LOMBARD'S PROFITLESS SCHEME.

New York State Banks Were Apparently His Intended Victims.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 13.—A man, representing himself as William Lombard, cashier of the Wheatland (Cal.) Bank, was arrested here to-day charged with attempting to defraud several New York State banks out of sums varying in amount from $2,500 to $5,000.

His plan, as stated, was to forge checks on the Wheatland Bank, and deposit them in banks in this State—$3,500 in Cattaraugus, $5,000 in Herkimer, $3,500 in Poland, $2,500 in New Berlin, and $3,500 in Attica. Then each of these banks was notified by letter that Lombard had transferred his account to a specified bank in this city.

Lombard arrived here on Wednesday night and registered at the best hotel in the city. He presented a draft at the Susquehanna Valley Bank, which was sent to Cattaraugus and returned. The police were notified, and answers to telegrams sent in every direction prove the man to be a fraud, it is said. In his satchel was a book containing a list of every bank in the country.

He fought hard against being photographed, and the police twisted his wrists with nippers until the blood came before he would open his eyes. His right name is believed to be Charles M. Morton.

STOLE $6,000 AND ELOPED.

A Farmer's Hired Man Skips With His Sweetheart and Employer's Money.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 13.—Klingerstown is a pretty village in the Blue Ridge Mountains, not far north of this city, and Mary Fletcher was known for miles around as one of its prettiest maidens. For more than a year Charles Clifton Ford has been devoting himself to her. Each was vivacious and popular. A few mornings ago, when the sturdy farmers and villagers arose, word was passed around that Mary and Charles were missing and $6,000 of Farmer John H. Weits's cash had also disappeared. Ford has worked for Farmer Weist for almost ten years. He frequently made trips through the mountains collecting money for Weist, who is wealthy.

Ford had made arrangements for another trip of this kind. On Tuesday night he hitched Weist's fast horse to his best buggy. Before saying good-by he put his hands in Weist's safe and transferred $6,000 into his pocket. He drove to the Fletcher house, secured the object of his love, and they drove to Frackville, where they took the cars. The next morning Mr. Weist received word that if he wanted his horse and buggy he would find them in Frackville. Nothing has since been heard of the elopers.

WILL LIVE TO SPITE HIS FAMILY.

Mr. Coleman Now Bathes in the Coffin He Bought for Himself.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Nov. 13.—Joshua Coleman, a rich Green County farmer, had a presentiment that his death was near at hand. He made his will and had a coffin sent to his house.

The members of his family didn't grieve enough over the prospect of his death to suit Coleman, and in his wrath he resolved to live in order to spite them. He has had the coffin lined with zinc and now uses it for a bathtub.
